

A REPORT ON “PHENOMENA: AN INTER DISCIPLINARY APPROACH”

Date: 24th August 2023

Time: 2:00 p.m.

Venue: College Auditorium

Target Group(s):

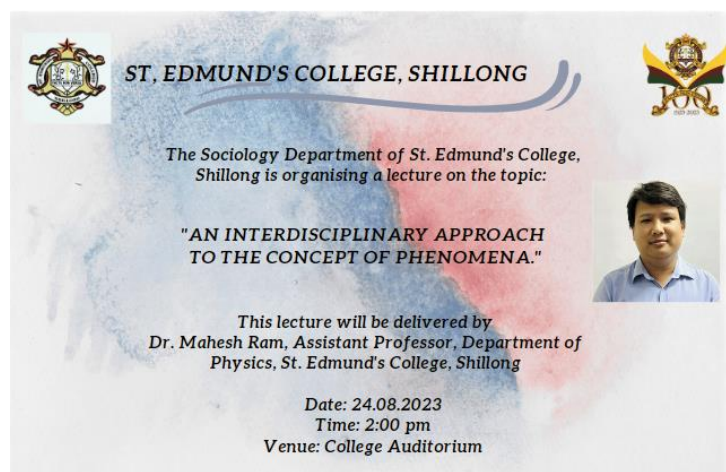

1. Faculty members and students of Sociology department.
2. Faculty members and students of other Departments from the College.

Program Objective:

1. To have a conceptual understanding of Phenomena as an interdisciplinary concept as part of Physics and Sociology.
2. To understand the description of Sociology as the study of social phenomena more vividly.

Program Outcome:

1. The Resource Person of the lecture session, Dr. Mahesh Ram, Assistant Professor, Department of Physics, St. Edmund’s College spoke on the concept of Phenomena and was able to portray its description as an interdisciplinary concept as part of Physics and Sociology.
2. He presented the session with visual images of illusions and optics to enhance the understanding of the concept among the audience.
3. The students were able to understand the description of Sociology as the study of social phenomena more vividly.

IMAGES FROM THE LECTURE ON “PHENOMENA: AN INTER DISCIPLINARY APPROACH”

