

The YTT Western Dance Competition commenced with its Audition on the 1st of April in the AV room where 17 teams (of all categories) and solo contenders performed in front of three judges, professors from our college. From there, the finalists who were to perform on the big stage during the Edblazon event the following week were chosen; five from the 'group' category, three from the 'duo' category and five from the 'solo' category.

The 'YTT Western' took place on the 8th of April, Friday, and the finalists of the Western Dance Competition performed in front of three guest judges, namely Dapalei Warjri, Anniesha Mawrie and Wilbert Kylla, who are professional dancers. The competition was a huge success and greatly entertained the crowd. The event itself was one of the most awaited and expectedly, the most entertaining.

Some of the winners got to perform again on the final day of Edblazon, adding much colors and fun to the end of the College's biggest event.
