On the 16th of February 2023, an audition for the YTT Western Dance was held in the AV room where 11 teams (of all categories) and solo contenders performed in front of three judges who were professors from our college itself. From there, 8 participants were selected as finalists to perform on the big stage which was to be held on the 21st of February. Out of the 8 participants, 5 were 'solo' contenders and the other 3 were from the 'group' category.

The 'YTT Western Dance' took place on the 21st February, Tuesday, in the field with three renowned guests who are also great dancers as the judges of the competition namely, Pranab Rajkhowa, Satbir Singh and Anniesha Mawrie. The finalists performed so well and entertained the crowd in such a way that it turned out to be a great success. Not only were the participants giving such beautiful performances but the judges were also very willing to show us a few moves when they were asked and it definitely made the audience go wild.

It was a tough competition and a hard time as well for the judges to decide the winners since everyone had performed greatly. But a decision had to be made and so was the following result::

Solo:

First: Dristi Devi (History 2nd sem)

Second: Jessica Malniang (BSW 4th sem)

Third: Lurshailang Lyngdoh Mawphlang (Biochemistry 2nd sem)
