

DR. K. P. PALLAVI MALHAN

All of life is a constant education - Eleanor Roosevelt

Dr Pallavi has been in the field of Education spanning more than two decades and this journey has helped her comprehend facets of pedagogical practices. During this period, she was involved in areas of planning and management of training schedules, teaching and instruction, curriculum preparation and implementation, staff management, coordination of curriculum, international research and academic exposure (was on a Doctoral scholarship in People's Republic of China), policy & planning.

Further, Dr Pallavi has had the proud privilege of serving in the Indian Army for 5 years, as Education Officer and as Instructor, where she also officiated as Head of Department (HOD) for Under Graduate studies, leading a team of readers and instructors at the prestigious National Defence Academy (NDA), which is affiliated to JNU, Pune. She has published articles in renowned defence and media circles, covering foreign affairs & bilateral relations. Dr Pallavi has won several awards & scholarships, both academic and professional. She has had the experience of being Head of Department - Humanities (PGT) & International Links Coordinator for Darrick Wood School, Kent, U.K.

As part of a 36-year-old not-for-profit organization, VIDYA, Dr Pallavi was involved with several humanitarian causes involving less privileged students and as Head Mistress of VIDYA School, she brought about a transformation in the academic administration of the institution.

Today, Dr Pallavi is proud to be an integral part of St. Edmund's College in Shillong and fondly reminiscence her earlier years in higher learning! Dr Pallavi looks forward to anchoring and furthering the vision of the College.