ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Planning for this course began in November 2022 — a whole semester before the event — and the idea was the brainchild of Prof. Goutam Deb, Head, Department of Commerce, and Coordinator, Counselling and Placement Cell, St. Edmund's College, Shillong. His zeal to give students a glimpse of life after college led to the present avatar of this course. We both hope that this course will be a permanent fixture in the activities of the college's even semester (February-June).

Dr. (Capt). K. P. Pallavi Malhan, Vice Principal (Academics) dedicated several hours from her schedule to prepare for her activity-filled module on 'People skills'. I thank her for accepting the invitation to teach this module.

Dr. Samrat Adhikari, Head, Department of Biotechnology, Br. (Dr.) Simon Coelho, Principal-in-charge, St. Edmund's College, Shillong, Prof. Sumit Deb, Coordinator, Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) and Ms. Priya Paul, Technical Assistant never failed to provide the Incubation Centre with their best. I thank them for their efforts.

COURSE STRUCTURE

The subsequent sub-section will highlight various aspects of the course, such as Course Description, the Programme, the Mode of the conduct of this course and the grading policy.

3.1 Course Description:

This six-module Value-Added Course will help students navigate the intricacies of modern workplaces by imparting ‘functional’ knowledge of prevailing practices in most organizations – private as well as government.

3.2 Programme of the Course:

This course was divided into six modules. The modules were shared between the Research Facilitator and two in-house resource persons, with the focus on gradually introducing the participants to the idea of the modern office environment. The programme of the course is listed in the table below:

Date	Time	Module	Resource Person
Thursday, 23 March 2023	1:30-5:30	Inaugural Session (Workplace expectations)	Prof. Goutam Deb , Head, Department of Commerce
Friday, 24 March	1:30-5:30	How to prepare your résumé and write cover letters	Dr. Oliver N. Gonsalves , Research Facilitator, Incubation Centre
Saturday, 25 March	1:30-5:30	E-mail etiquette	Dr. Oliver N. Gonsalves , Research Facilitator, Incubation Centre
Monday, 27 March	1:30-5:30	Basic computer skills (MS Word and more)	Dr. Oliver N. Gonsalves , Research Facilitator, Incubation Centre
Tuesday, 28 March	1:30-5:30	People skills	Dr. K.P. Pallavi Malhan , Vice Principal (Academics), St. Edmund’s College
Wednesday, 29 March	1:30-5:30	How to prepare reports	Dr. Oliver N. Gonsalves , Research Facilitator, Incubation Centre

Apart from the six four-hour modules, twelve hours were allotted for the assessment of the students’ assignments and their feedback on the conduct and content of the course. All assignments received feedback via personal e-mails from the Research Facilitator.

3.3 Mode of conduct of the Course:

An offline (physical) mode was followed for this course. The six modules were held in Room Number 105, in the Commerce Block of St. Edmund’s College, Shillong.

3.4 Grading Policy:

Students were assigned the following grades, based on the complete course assessments.

Marks	Final Grade
90-100	A+
80-90	A
70-80	B+
60-70	B
50-60	C+
40-50	C

ASSIGNMENTS AND RESULTS

Since the mid-semester exams of the college were near, only one assignment was given to the students. This assignment was disseminated during the course using the Learning Management System (LMS). It was designed by the course coordinator to test the students on their understanding of the topics discussed during the various modules while also giving an opportunity to apply the teachings logically in a pre-determined space for their creativity. The assignment was based on the practical aspects of the course.

6.1 Methodology of evaluation:

The assignment carried ten marks. Marks from the assignment were used to obtain a final percentage score.

Thus, if a student scored 8/10, then the final percentage was calculated as 80 (8/10 x100).

Only students who had scored a minimum of 40% and above are eligible for certificates (refer to Appendix C).

6.2 Composition of the assignment:

Students were expected to upload their submission on to the LMS. They had the option to prepare a one-page curriculum vitae (CV) or prepare a two-page report on the course. Additionally, they were also informed that the latter carried two extra marks. However, given the benefits of preparing a CV and having it graded, all the students chose to submit a CV. They were given two weeks to submit (upload) their assignments, which the Research Facilitator evaluated.

6.3 Results:

The details of the marks scored and the final percentage attained is listed in the table below:

Out of the 43 students who registered for the course, only 13 passed this course. Thus, this course had a passing percentage of 30.23%. Thirty students did not submit any assignments (listed in the table above as AI). Figure 2 below is a graphical display of the percentage scores of the 13 students who passed this course.

Note: This data was plotted using MS Excel.

Based on the assessment of the assignment, appropriate grades were awarded to the student. While the scores (marks) for the assignments were awarded on Linways, the grades were only included in the certificates.

6.4 Analysis:

Based on students' assignments and classroom interactions, this report has noted the following:

- Students are unaware of readymade CV templates provided by Microsoft Word. Instead, they relied on templates available on the internet. Most of these templates are US-centric and use terms unfamiliar to Indian students. Further, they could not choose a template which fit well with their academic discipline (Commerce).
- Students need to be sensitised about protecting some private details. For instance, most students included their mobile numbers and complete residential addresses in their CVs.
- Career objectives — if included in the CV — were very broad. Students need to be more specific about their goals. Future courses must stress the need for CVs that are tailored to the job description.
- Some students had listed-out skills such as “fast learner”, “good listener”, “orderly”, “optimistic” etc. and ignored the requirement to have references to prove their statements.

- e. None of the students had a professional photograph affixed in their CV.

FEEDBACK FROM STUDENTS

A Google Form was designed to assess feedback from the students. The link (URL) of this form is:

Value Added Course on Developing Soft Skills: Communication and Critical Thinking
Organised by the Incubation Centre, St. Edmund's College, Shillong in collaboration with the Department of Commerce and the Placement Cell, St. Edmund's College, Shillong

Introduction
Professional capabilities in the ongoing Fourth Industrial Revolution have evolved to be dominated by the possession of 'skills'. Organisations now expect freshers to possess certain skills BEFORE joining their ranks. Besides an understanding of their core subjects, graduates are now expected to be familiar with contemporary professional etiquettes. In this context, the National Education Policy 2020 encourages the development of 'soft skills' to equip 21st century graduates from Indian universities (pg. 36-37).

Objective of this course
This six-module Value-Added Course will help students navigate the intricacies of modern workplaces by imparting 'functional' knowledge of prevailing practices in most organizations – private as well as government.

Target Participants
The course is only open for 6th semester students of the Department of Commerce, St. Edmund's College.
