Outcome:

On a day-to-day basis, students allocate a significant share of their time within the campus environment. As educators, we bear a considerable duty and responsibility in terms of actively involving ourselves in the development and growth of students. The connection between the surroundings in which students are nurtured, the absence of structure, and inadequate intellectual opportunities are often linked to deviant behaviour. Students can greatly benefit from the direction and support of diverse mentors, encompassing parents, peers, elders, teachers, colleagues, and more. While a teacher contributes to teaching, research, and administration, it is imperative to recognize their role as a mentor as well.

Teachers should acquire, attain and implement key mentoring skills in order to keep up with the changing characteristics of the younger generation, inclination toward technology, decreasing parental care, and mounting social and peer pressure. In light of this, a Faculty Development Programme (FDP) on Mentoring Skills for Millennium Educators was organized from 6th to 14th March 2023 in collaboration with the Centre for Professional Excellence and Life Long Learning (CPELL), Kristu Jayanti College, Autonomous, Bengaluru. Mentoring is an integral component of holistic education, facilitating students' intellectual, emotional, and professional growth. It equips them with the skills and confidence needed to thrive in an ever-changing world. The program was designed to address all the core dimensions of mentoring and enable
